

GREAT INTEREST IN AUTOMOBILE CONTEST

Many Prominent Men and Women, Boys and Girls Working for $2,000 in Prizes

First Grand Prize—Dodge Touring Car, to be given to the lucky contestant securing the highest vote.
Second Grand Prize—Ford Sedan, for contestant securing the second highest vote.
Third Grand Prize—Edison Talking Machine.
Fourth Grand Prize—Victor Talking Machine.

Last week the Daily Register inaugurated a great circulation campaign. The proposition is a big one, as $2,000 in prizes (not to mention commissions) is to be given away, absolutely free, within the short period of 6 weeks.
Be sure and read carefully the contest story in this space every day, for if you are not an active competitor for a handsome prize one of your friends will be and you will wish to be informed daily of all that is going on in the great race.

Spared No Expense
The Daily Register has spared no expense in getting up this contest. The list of awards is headed by two 1921 model automobiles. These cars are sold by the dealers for this county.

Then there will be two talking machines each valued at $150.00, a Victor and an Edison Diamond Disc. These have been purchased from local dealers and can be seen at their places of business.

Extra Votes
This contest has been divided into several periods and from Oct. 18 until 4:00 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 1, will be known as "Opportunity Period." This is a real inducement for you to get an early start for a real worker can secure 50,000 extra votes with a little effort. There will be given each candidate an "Opportunity Coupon" good for 10,000 votes. Any time that a candidate turns in subscription business amounting to $18.00.

One two-year subscription will count the same as two one-year subscriptions; a three-year subscription counts the same as three one-year subscriptions—in other words, when you get enough business to amount to $18, you get an "Opportunity Coupon" good for 10,000 extra votes. At no time in the whole contest will the same amount of cash subscription business count for as many votes as during "Opportunity Period" ending Nov. 1 at 4:00 p. m.

Only five of these "Opportunity Period" coupons good for 50,000 extra votes will be allowed any one candidate—but be sure to get your full five.

Send In Nomination At Once
There is a nomination blank printed on another page of this issue. Anybody may clip these nomination blanks and nominate one's self or some friend. The nomination blank is good for 10,000 votes, and if it is accompanied by $3.00 worth of subscription to the Daily Register it is good for 20,000 votes, while if accompanied by $18 worth of subscriptions to the Daily Register, the nomination blank will be worth 50,000 votes, and will also entitle the nominee to one "Opportunity Period Coupon" good for 10,000 extra votes at once. After November 1, the value of the nomination coupon will be decreased, so send in your name or the name of the friends whom you would like to see win the two cars. Do this today. Do it now.

Special Vote Periods
From October 18 until November 1, 3 o'clock p. m., will be known as "Opportunity Period" in addition to the regular schedule printed above, to each candidate turning in subscription business to the Daily Register amounting to $18 will be given an Opportunity Coupon good for 10,000 extra votes. No more than five Opportunity Coupons will be given to any one candidate. By far more votes are given during Opportunity Period for the same amount of cash subscription business than will be the case later. So get started early, as an early start is half the battle.

Any man, woman, boy or girl (white) living in Madison or adjacent counties, is eligible to compete in the Daily Register contest.

Today's Livestock Markets

Weather for Kentucky

Fair tonight and Tuesday with slightly warmer temperature tonight.

BEREA SUPPORTERS TO MEET IN CINCINNATI

Prominent Cincinnatians, supporters of Berea College, have arranged a public meeting at the Hotel Gibson, in Cincinnati, Wednesday evening, to discuss the education of the mountain boys. Dr. Hutchins, president of the Berea College, will deliver the principal address. Dr. J. C. Day, a former Berea citizen, now a prominent minister of New York, and Mr. W. A. Julian, a manufacturer of the Queen City, who is a trustee of Berea College, are also on the program.

NO REDUCTION IN ASSESSMENT OF FARMS

Farmers of Kentucky need expect no 25 per cent reduction of farm land assessments, according to an announcement of Chairman Oct. 18 until 4:00 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 1, will be known as "Opportunity Period." This is a real inducement for you to get an early start for a real worker can secure 50,000 extra votes with a little effort. There will be given each candidate an "Opportunity Coupon" good for 10,000 votes. Any time that a candidate turns in subscription business amounting to $18.00.

Irvine Home Burns

Irvine, Ky., Oct. 17.—Fire caused by defective electric light wiring in the kitchen resulted in the destruction of the home of Jas. I. Johnson here Sunday morning. The fire occurred when the family was at church, but neighbors seeing the blaze rushed in and saved a large part of the furniture. The loss which was estimated at between $3,000 and $4,000, was covered by insurance.

TWO UNKNOWN HEROES HONORED IN LONDON

London, Oct. 17.—The British government today decided to award the Victoria Cross, the highest British award, to America's unknown warrior. Just previously the Congressional Medal of Honor, the highest decoration was laid upon the simple inscribed marble slab in Westminster Abbey, which marks the tomb of Great Britain's "unknown warrior." The official presentation was made by Ambassador Harvey. The act of bestowing the medal was performed by General Pershing, who said it was a "slight token of our gratitude and affection toward this people." Harvey called the medal presentation a "message of fraternity direct from the American people." Prime Minister Lloyd-George said, "This empire, in its remotest corners, will not miss the significance of this deed and this day." The entire ceremony was simple.

HAYS SAYS MAIL WILL BE MOVED

And Army Is Ready or Any Use, if Needed—All Workers To Be Out Nov. 5

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 17.—The government, through various departments, today began a survey of the railroad strike situation. Officials from President Harding's hardening down to department bureau chiefs are watching the situation closely, hoping some means will be found to avoid paralyzing the nation's transportation system.
Postmaster General Hays said "the mails will be moved." It was said at the war department there was no official discussion there about the strike, but in Secretary Weeks called for reports about what the army could do they would be quickly forthcoming.

How Groups Will Walk Out

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Oct. 17.—Eastern railroads are among those affected by the scheduled walkout of the five big brotherhoods on second and third group of carriers, it became known today. Like the first group the strike on the second division of the roads will affect every section of the country, but hits the east hardest. That section is left practically untouched on the first day. The second group walkout will come at 6 a. m. local standard time, November 1st. Thirteen roads in this group, including the Louisville and Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis. Three of the remaining largest roads in the country are included in the third group on which the strike is set for 6 a. m. local standard time, November 3rd, when the entire Burlington system, New York Central lines and the entire Baltimore and Ohio will feel the strike blow. The balance of the third group and fourth group include the remaining roads of the country which will be included in the walkout November 5th.

$2,000,000 In Workers' Chest To Help With The Strike

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Oct. 17.—The railroad brotherhoods have a strike fund of $2,000,000 which is insufficient for a general strike of any length. John Gorman, president of the United Association of Railway Employees of North America and leader of the unauthorized switchmen's strike last year, declared today. Gorman issued a circular to 60,000 members of his organization, outlining his position, but declaring he does not believe there will be a strike.

Cleveland, Oct. 17—Proposals of the Public Group of the Railroad Labor Board to reduce the freight rates to prevent the railroad strike will not prove feasible, Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Railroad Engineers declared today.

He asserted that by the time the reduction got to the consumer it would amount to only half of one per cent.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 17.—With the announcement Sunday that the Big Five railroad transportation chiefs will meet here Tuesday to discuss plans for carrying on the nation-wide progressive railroad strike that has been set to begin at 6 o'clock Sunday morning, October 20, W. G. Lee, president of the railroad craftsmen, declared that nothing but a miracle can prevent the strike going into effect.

Mr. Lee returned to headquarters Sunday morning from Chicago where Saturday five transportation organizations ordered the strike, and at once began sending out official notices of the strike order to approximately three hundred general chairmen of his organization who did not attend the Chicago conference.

"Mr. Lee explained that the strike order sent out to the five organizations was final and definite, no provisions being made for a postponement of action. Only a satisfactory settlement before the date set for the strike to begin has been provided for in the instructions sent to the general chairmen.

Mr. Lee said that the strike is in protest against the twelve per

SENATE VOTES NOT TO PROTECT GERMANY

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 17.—The first attempt to amend the treaty with Germany failed in the Senate today. An amendment by Senator Walsh, democrat of Montana, to have the United States join other powers in a pledge to protect Germany against unprovoked invasion was rejected, 1 to 7.

FOX HUNTERS GATHER AT COLLEGE HILL

Hundreds of fox hunters from all over this section are meeting at College Hill this week for the annual sessions of the Central Kentucky Fox Hunters' Association. The weather is fine, and a lot of splendid dogs are on hand. The good people of College Hill section are extending every hospitality to their guests. The program for the meet is:
Tuesday and Wednesday, derby days.
Thursday morning, the all-agree stake.
Friday, renewal of all-agree stake.

HEARD ABOUT TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Covington celebrated their golden wedding anniversary near Georgetown. The bride was married at 11.
Centre College dedicated St. Xavier at Cincinnati Saturday by 21 to 6.
For the first time in 24 years, State University scored on Vanderbilt at Lexington Saturday. Many think State has a chance with Centre this year.
Jim Park's Reos won from the Winchester Hunters at Lexington Sunday with Jim pitching the ball, as usual. The score was 13 to 7.
Col. Bob Walker, the world-famous auctioneer, is at Mt. Sterling holding an auction for the government. Uncle Sam will get every penny for his stuff with Col. Bob on the job.
Mr. K. B. Turner, new manager of the Dixie Dry Cleanery, has moved with his family into a flat in the Daily Register building.

Business houses in Wilmore, Nicholasville and other Jessamine county towns will close Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, during the drive for pledges to the Burley Cooperative Marketing Association.

The home of H. R. Telford was almost entirely destroyed by fire at Hopkinsville while the family was visiting in Florida.

cent wage reduction handed down by the Railroad Labor Board on June 1, last, and which went into effect July 1. He explained that when the five railroad organization chiefs met with a committee of five railroad managers in Chicago Friday to consider the twelve per cent wage reduction and were informed by the railroad managers that a further ten per cent wage reduction would be requested, the brotherhood chiefs gave up all hope of an amicable settlement and the strike order resulted.

BINGHAM ASSERTS HE WANTS NO OFFICE

Sponsor For Burley Association Nails Rumor He Would Seek Political Plum

Owenton, Ky., Oct. 17.—Declaring that "there is not an office in the gift of any official or the voters of the United States" that he would accept, Judge Robert W. Bingham, owner of the Courier-Journal and Louisville Times, said in an address to tobacco growers of Owen county here that if the 75 per cent of the crop regarded as essential to the success of the Burley co-operative marketing movement is not signed by November 15, he will take it "as a notice that the Kentucky tobacco growers are not as interested in their own affairs as they should be," and that he will expect, "without rancor, to retire from the field."

Judge Bingham declared his purpose to "see this drive thru." "We must have 75 per cent of the average by November 15, 1921," he said. "If we have not, I shall understand it to be a notice that the growers are not as interested in their own affairs as they should be, and I shall expect with an rancor, to retire from the field."

Judge Bingham has financed the organization of the growers up to the present time. Discussing this feature of the matter, he said:

"In this behalf I have given some money, which was a necessity to begin the movement; a lot of time and energy, and heart all of devotion to the people, who have been so good to me," Judge Bingham said.

"It has been my good fortune to have been associated in my life with a number of public movements. I have never seen so many big men working unselfishly for their community as are engaged in this burley organization."

"You have heard it charged occasionally that Ralph Barker and Jim Stone and some of the others with whom I am privileged to be associated, hope to profit financially by the success of this movement. Intelligent Kentucky farmers do not need to be reminded of the manifest absurdity of this. For in the years of bad prices, these men and others of large interests make more money than in years of good prices. If tobacco became a permanent drug in the market they would still have their house and their automobiles. They are independent of you. But at my request they joined with me to help, knowing that what would generally help Kentucky would make it a safer place for them to invest their money in and a better place to rear their families in. That is why they are in it; that is why I am in it."

"I ask your pardon for mentioning myself at all. The occasion makes it necessary. It is briefly told. When I saw heavy prosperous are the farmers of California and then read of the privation of the Kentucky tobacco growers last winter when the market fell to the bottom, I determined I would try to do this one thing for my state and so I went in to form a co-operative. "Fate, not my own merit or ability, had placed in my hands two great newspapers, and the resources with which to make them effective. I decided to devote all these to this cause. By this time you have realized—or you will some day—that there is not an office in the gift of an official or voter of the United States that I would accept. I am in this thing to stabilize living conditions in the rural sections of Kentucky and to reform the most backward system of crop marketing that ever existed. I am in it to take the women and children out of the tobacco rows. In this behalf I have given some money which was a necessity to begin the movement; a lot of time and energy; and a heart full of devotion to the people who have been so good to me. I am going to see this drive through. We are trying to help the people of Kentucky help themselves and the time to do it is now. We must have 75 per cent of the burley acreage signed up by November 15, 1921.

"If we have not, I shall understand it to be a notice that the Kentucky growers are not as interested in their own affairs as they should be, and I shall expect, without rancor, to retire from the field. We cannot hope for a few men to go on trying when the many whom they seek to benefit refuse to try. I am happy to say that all indications point to success of the 1921 acreage; but remember, fellow Kentuckians, the workers in this movement ought to help those who help themselves."

Fleming "Over the Top"

With nine of the largest of the counties in the burley tobacco district over the top, having already signed 75 per cent or more of their tobacco crops, and 45 others within "striking distance" of the goal, some of them above seventy per cent there is to be no let up in the campaign to obtain the signatures of tobacco growers to the marketing plan of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

Fleming county went over the top Friday, it was reported at headquarters in Lexington.

The counties which have signed 75 per cent or more of their crops are Fayette, Bourbon, Lincoln, Woodford, Montgomery, Carroll, Bath, Fleming and Nicholas. The counties near the 75 per cent quota include the big burley producing counties of Scott, Mercer, Boyle, Madison, Clark, Shelby, Jessamine, Grant, Mason, Garrard and others.

Good county organizations are perfected in all the Kentucky counties which produce burley, as well as the burley growing counties of Ohio, Indiana, West Virginia and Tennessee, and Organization Manager Joseph Passmore said yesterday that he had no doubt of the ultimate success of the association in pledging three-fourths of the crop to the proposed marketing plan.

From now until the drop of the flag on the night of November 14, an intensive campaign is to be made to line up every possible tobacco grower in the district for the association. Intensive drives by precinct workers, who will make house-to-house canvasses in each county, have been planned by most of the county chairmen and this precinct drive, which is to be made in connection with the speaking campaign is expected to bring about the desired results by the time the campaign closes on the night of November 14.

As an example of the effectiveness of the local county campaigns, the result in the counties of Montgomery, Bourbon, Woodford and Bath are given as showing what can be accomplished when the business and professional men join the farmers in such a movement. These counties reported the following work done, and with efforts to sign the rest of the crop being made:

|            | 1920  | Signed |
|------------|-------|--------|
| Montgomery | 3,800 | 3,600  |
| Bourbon    | 8,500 | 7,470  |
| Woodford   | 5,500 | 4,428  |
| Bath       | 3,600 | 3,348  |

These figures do not include any of the tobacco signed up the past week, which has not yet been reported to the central offices of the association.

How Land Values Decreased

Paris, Ky., Oct. 17.—The real estate firm of Harris, Speaks and Harris sold at public auction Saturday the farm of Robert Smart, on the Cave Ridge pike, for $170,25 an acre to Aylette Buckner of this county. This farm was purchased by Mr. Smart one year ago last February from Frank Collier, through the Paris Realty Company, for $400 an acre.

Week's Weather Guess

Washington, Oct. 15.—The week's weather for the Ohio Valley and Tennessee is, considerable cloudiness with occasional showers and mild temperatures, except considerable cooler toward end of week.

M'DOUGLE TO SPEAK NEXT SATURDAY

Opponent of Amendment Not Given Chance To Reply At Colvin's Meeting Saturday

Owing to the objection on the part of the management of the speaking here Saturday when the two proposed constitutional amendments were advocated by two speakers, Dr. E. C. McDougle was not given an opportunity to reply to their arguments. Announcement is being made, however, that Dr. McDougle will present the "other side" of these questions next Saturday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, at the court house.

Opponents of the two measures said that many of the large crowd which heard Dr. M. R. Adams, President of Georgetown College, and State Supt. George Colvin, were present to hear Dr. McDougle's reply. There were many Normal students in the audience, also. Both speakers made vigorous presentations of their side of the question, disregarding many of the strong arguments which have been advanced against the two amendments. Both claimed the two amendments would "take the schools out of politics." Dr. Adams made a eloquent argument from the "Urban Standpoint" that many believe impossible of realization under present conditions.

Supt. Colvin defended his position with characteristic vigor. He answered objections on grounds of his own conduct in seeking to prove his own non-partisanship. He declared that almost half of his office force at Frankfort is composed of Democrats. However, he did not furnish their names. He further sought to defend his conduct in the ongoing of the Democratic treasurer of Eastern Normal school soon after Colvin became an official chairman of the board. He claimed that he voted with the Democratic members of the board for the republican treasurer selected, but did not touch upon the charge made by several prominent local republicans that he had given his solemn word to vote for another man, a republican, as treasurer, before going into the meeting; that he had arranged for the casting of the Democratic treasurer with them, but when he met the board squarely betrayed his agreement in regard to the man and the bank he would vote for as treasurer. This charge is made openly by some of Madison county's most prominent republican leaders. So far as known here, this charge has never been denied by Mr. Colvin and if he cares to deny it, the Daily Register will be glad to give space to such denial, verbatim and in toto.

The speeches in favor of the amendments occupied so much time, that the management of the affair did not feel inclined to prolong the program longer, by allowing Dr. McDougle opportunity to reply, it was stated.

Much interest is being aroused in this section over the two proposed amendments. Those who have sounded sentiment in Madison say that Madison will give an overwhelming majority against them. Anyway, the address which Dr. McDougle will make at the court house next Saturday in opposition to the amendments will undoubtedly be heard by a large audience. It is said that Dr. McDougle has some arguments against that hit the nails, eye every time, and what he will say is being awaited with much interest.

Col. Long Tom Chennault, the whirlwind auctioneer, rented the splendid farm belonging to Dr. Phelps Collins, containing 214 acres, to May Collins, at $1310 Monday morning. This is considered by everyone to be a splendid price. When it comes to renting or selling lands in good old Madison county, Long Tom is "she" there, and his many friends state that he should have never left this country, even though he went to a place that is known as the paradise of the earth.

This might be as good a time as any other for the big railroad strike that has been threatened for almost a score of years every time the workers didn't get what they demanded in the way of wages and hours. They "held up" Congress during the war and since then have received far higher wages than any other skilled workmen. Now with the railroads almost bankrupt, and everything else down below, they propose to tie up the entire country's commercial life because the Labor Board decreed a slight reduction in their pay. The strike will throw more millions out of employment and make conditions still harder. Very well, this question has to be settled some time and now is as good as any. Let them strike. Let the government call for volunteers to operate the railroads, if necessary, and protect them with the army, if protection is needed. What's the matter with the suggestion that the American Legion be asked to furnish volunteers to operate the railways? They saved the country from external aggression and undoubtedly can preserve it from internal anarchy, if that seems threatened.

Work Hard, Democrats!

Only a few weeks until the county elections are decided. Democrats should gird their armor on and tighten up for the battle to redeem old Madison. It's going to be a real battle. Our friends, the enemy, encouraged by the two big majorities in the last two years, think they are going to elect their entire county ticket. They are supremely confident. But that should only make Democracy work the harder. Never has such a splendid ticket been offered the voters as Democracy presents this year. From top to bottom there isn't a dew. The men who carry Democracy's banner are true and tried; they represent the best citizenship of the county. They are certain to safeguard the interests of the taxpayers; they can be relied upon to give faithful, honest and efficient service. This is the time for every man and woman of Democratic tendencies to stand true to the old flag. There should be no wavering; no hesitating in such an hour when the party is on trial and facing its severest test. True Democrats will forget personalities, disappointments and dissatisfactions. We all have them at times, but this is the time for every drop of Democratic blood to forget the little things and rally to the defense of the ticket of splendid citizens who are offering their candidacies under the banner of the "Hoover Vote 'Er Straight."

A. A. Bowman, editor of the Versailles Sun, was an associate editor of the Daily Register for five Saturdays. Mr. Bowman occupies a unique place, all his own in Kentucky country journalism. He is one of the few "rural reporters" who has the nerve to say just what's on his mind. He hears to the line and doesn't care where the chips fly. As he's invariably right, his constituents have learned to love his frankness, and there isn't a department in any country paper more widely read or more thoroughly respected than his "Thoughts of a Country Editor" in the Sun. Mr. and Mrs. Bowman have many warm friends in Madison county.

NORMAL TO PLAY STATE SOPHOMORES

The Eastern Normal eleven is to meet the University of Kentucky sophomores on the Normal gridiron Tuesday. Coach Hennebre was unable to get a game for last Saturday so he arranged this one as early as possible in the week as he has a game with Cumberland College there Saturday. The team is in the best of condition and has not been handicapped at all this season with heavy injuries. The boys taking their daily work-out are rapidly rounding into mid-season form. Captain Herman is in perfect condition and is expected to keep up the stellar work that he has been pulling the first part of the season. Tom Adams, a local boy, who was not able to take part in the season against Wesleyan Saturday week, will be shape to start Tuesday and will probably be stationed on one of the ends. Several Normal 11 warriors will be used in the College line up. Von Crutcher is slated to start at half back. He played his best game of the season against Wesleyan last Saturday week and if he continues to improve he will live up to the standard set by his remarkable playing last season.

The Eastern line will be the best that can be gotten together at the institution. Shelby Carr of the Normal 11, will probably start at the center position. He has been playing a great game in the line for both the Normal teams. He is equally as strong on the defense as the offense and would be a valuable addition to any high school team in the state. The positions of guards will be filled by three Normal students, Little, Jayne or Powell. All three play good games on each side of the center. Their work has been on about a par so far this season.

Evans and Adams are expected to start as tackles, both being very capable men who have already distinguished themselves in past games in which they have taken part.

Lawson and Tom Adams seem to be the best players on the line by choice on each side with Rowland turning either one of them a close second. All three are heavy on the defense and also show an swell on the offense. Adams has been playing half back for Normal. He, Brennan, Wince, A. Crutcher and Gray will more than likely lead the line in the field. Adams, Brennan, Wince, Crutcher and Gray will more than likely lead the line in the field. ## SHOULD A WIFE OBEY HER HUSBAND?

The question has been debated pro and con for several generations. Many women insist that it be left out of the marriage ceremony. There was a girl in Indiana whose parents spoiled her. She ruled them in every respect. She longed for a husband that would curb her will and force her to obey him. The story is told by ALICE JOYCE in "HER LORD AND MASTER"

Bennett—Brittain

The marriage of Miss Helen Rollins Bennett, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bennett, and of Ensign Baldwin Brittain, U. S. Navy, which was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, marked the union of two of the oldest and most prominent families in Madison county.

It was a home wedding and the bright October sunshine made a perfect day without, while within the beautifully decorated rooms and the brilliant company assembled furnished an atmosphere of beauty and of harmony to be envied by any bride. Similar in profusion wreathed the doorways and chandeliers, and the altar before which the solemn vows were spoken was a mass of stately

STALE BLOOD

BLURS LIVING

Gude's Pepto-Mangan Revives The Blood To Healthy State

Stale blood blurs living. It dulls the love for pleasure, and weakens the spirit. Thoughts sink into an unredeemed dardiness that no goading of the will can dispel. Where there is only an aching sensation of fatigue. Gude's Pepto-Mangan taken regularly for a while puts a check to the debilitating effects of thin, watery blood. It supplies the blood with red corpuscles, steps it up to its normal, rich redness. Then it is that the pleasure of rhythmic living returns. The smoldering glow of life warms and brightens so that the pleasant sensation of eating, sleeping, walking in the golden sunshine, breathing deep the health-giving air, again become thrilling and full of delight.

Druggists sell Gude's Pepto-Mangan in both liquid and tablet form.

ely anthemiums, in white and yellow, backed against a background of palms and ferns. Across the hall from the drawing room, in the library, the many handsome gifts of silver and glass and China were on display, and the chief ornament of the dining room was the bride's cake, a wonderful confection in frosted white with an overturned skirt of pink roses wonderfully real, adorning the top.

Promptly at four o'clock the strains of Lullabry's wedding march blatted from the harp and piano played by the Misses Telford, lured the guests into an expectant silence and the bridal party appeared upon the winding stair, and slowly approached the altar. Mrs. Telford, sister of the bride, with her lovely crest of lustrous gold, was striking in a frock of white chambray and the bride, leaning on her mother's arm and wearing her mother's wedding robe, eluited for the occasion, was never lovelier. The handsome veil and lace and stately train falling from the shoulders, making a picture that is old yet new, and always most appealing.

Ensign Brittain becomes the uniform which he wears, and as he approached the altar with his best man, Mr. Thomas L. Baldwin, Jr., himself a recent college graduate, his manliness and sinerity excited instant approval. Dr. Telford of the Presbyterian church, read the beautiful Episcopal service, and the bride was given in marriage by her father.

After sincere and affectionate congratulations by the guests present and a delicious supper served by an out-of-town caterer, Mr. and Mrs. Brittain left on the five o'clock train for New York where Ensign Brittain will join his ship, the Maryland, the most recent of Uncle Sam's dreadnaughts.

One of the notable charms of this beautiful wedding was the costume worn by the bride's mother, a handsome satin brocade in grey, which was worn by her mother, Mrs. Curtis Field Brittain, at her golden wedding anniversary, a number of years ago. The gown had been remodeled and Mrs. Bennett's stately beauty was enhanced by the magnificent costume.

It was generally remarked by those present that it was a most distinguished crowd of people. Mrs. Carlo B. Brittain, the groom's mother, was lovely in a soft black gown, unadorned save by her hair which is beautifully soft and white; Miss Lucia Burnam was exquisite in black lace decollete, Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Sr. Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Will Stanks, and Miss Olivia Baldwin, the groom's immediate family, were all present, and among the out-of-town guests there were Gov. and Mrs. Arthur Yager, of Louisville, Mr. and Mrs. Bowman, of Versailles, Mrs. Broadhead and Miss Bell, of Woodford county, Col. Overton Chenault, of Lexington, Mrs. Grady Kennedy, of Cincinnati, and Mrs. Neal Roberts Edmund, of Louisville, and others. Miss Lucia Bennett, Miss Betsy Bennett, Miss Lillian Burnam, Miss Jessie Burnam, Miss Margaret Greenleaf, and Miss Catherine Jennings assisted in serving refreshments.

The bride tossed her bouquet of white chrysanthemums into a waving net of eager hands as she ascended the stair to don her traveling costume, and her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Burnam, caught it as it fell.

Happy is the bride the sun shines on; also happy is the bride whose choice of a mate meets the approval of family and friends; therefore the young bride who gave her life on this brilliant October day into the keeping of the man of her choice is doubly happy for she had both sunshine and approval in abundance.

Entertained at Luncheon

Friday's calendar included a beautiful luncheon to which Mrs. Harvey Chenault was host, honoring Miss Helen Rollins Bennett and Mrs. Quincy Ward, of Cincinnati. ## HUSBAND SAYS HE'S AMAZED AT CHANGE

Huntington Man Can Hardly Believe His Eyes—Wife Is Picture of Health Now

"I can hardly believe my own eyes when I see my wife the picture of health as a short time ago I had given up all hope and her recovery by taking Taulac was simply marvelous," said J. L. Roberts, 1668 Ninth avenue, Huntington, W. Va.

"For six months she was down in bed so helpless we had to wait on her like a baby. She had stomach trouble in the worst form and lost weight until she was little more than a skeleton. We spent over three thousand dollars on treatments that did her no good and I was almost desperate with worry over her condition.

"A few days after she began taking Taulac she sat up and it wasn't long before she walked around the house. Today she is strong and well and I never saw her look better and more cheerful than she does now. I think Taulac is a world beater."

Taulac is sold in Richmond by Stockton and Son, and leading druggists.

from Georgetown College for the week end with his parents, Dr. O. Olin Green and Mrs. Green.

Miss Zerelda Baxter was at home from Finchville for a week end visit to her parents, Judge and Mrs. Baxter.

HOOSIER

The Cabinet of Proved Improvements

The reason two million women use and endorse the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet is because they know that the Hoosier excels—point by point.

They know that every feature of Hoosier construction has been proved right by test before it was adopted.

They know that it is impossible to build a better or more useful kitchen convenience than the Hoosier, because Hoosier's makers have tested every suggestion that was ever made for the improvement of a kitchen cabinet.

THE RULES NO HIDDEN JOKERS—A FAIR, SQUARE, ABOVE BOARD DEAL FOR ALL : : :

This contest opens October 11, and will close December 1, at 3 p. m., with the right reserved to extend the closing date to Saturday, December 8, or Saturday December 15th, at 3 p. m., notice of such extension to be given all candidates a week ahead.

Only one nomination ballot counted on any one candidate.

Candidates and their friends may clip as many 150 vote ballots from the issues of the Daily Register as they wish and send them in. The vote coupons expire on the various dates printed thereon.

Candidates may solicit subscriptions anywhere.

Candidates may be aided by as many friends as they can secure to take subscription books and solicit in their behalf.

No church, school, lodge, or society can compete as an organization; this is a campaign for individuals.

No vote will be issued except the 150-vote ballots printed in each issue of the Daily Register voting certificates issued with each cash subscription secured and special extra coupons, for which all candidates compete on equal terms.

The subscription rate of the Daily Register will be given you and remains the same as heretofore.

There will be no "doubling" of candidates, pooling of votes, or transferring of votes from one candidate to another permitted. Votes issued with cash subscriptions, and extra vote coupons issued, cannot be transferred to another candidate after the subscription has once been turned in to the Daily Register office. All information, receipt books, circular letters, sample copies, etc., furnished candidates free of charge.

Any candidate living in Richmond or surrounding territory, polling the highest vote, will be awarded a Dodge Touring Car, the candidate polling the second highest vote will be awarded a Ford Sedan; the candidate polling the third highest vote will be awarded a Victor Talking Machine, and the candidate polling the fourth highest vote will receive an Edison Talking Machine. These four prizes being known as the Grand Prizes.

Special other prizes will be given away from time to time, during this campaign. Any candidate competing actively to the end of the campaign and failing to win one of the Grand Prizes, or a special prize, and turning in at least $25 in cash subscriptions, business will be given ten per cent cash commission on the gross business he (or she) brings in. By any candidate competing actively to the end of the campaign we specifically mean one who turns in at least three yearly subscriptions during each of the last three weeks of the campaign.

The Daily Register reserves the right to reject the name of any undesirable candidate entered.

Any candidate who may stir up dissension or dissatisfaction among the candidates is subject to being dropped at once.

In case of a tie, identical prizes will be awarded those tying.

In case of a dispute, the Campaign Manager shall have the final decision.

The final count will be made by a committee of Madison county business or professional men, and their finding will be absolutely final.

Candidates entering this contest, agree to abide by these rules herein set forth, and such additional rulings as may be found necessary from time to time. Any Man, Woman, Boy or Girl (white) living in Madison county or adjoining territory, may compete.

Make all checks and money orders payable to the Richmond Daily Register, and address all matters relative to the campaign, to Campaign Manager, Lock Box 266, Richmond, Ky.

Uncle Sam's Share

New York, Oct. 17.—The world's series netted Uncle Sam a handsome sum, but not so much as the Dempsey-Carpentier boxing bout. Frank K. Bowers, collector of internal revenue, announced that the tax collected on the eight world's series games amounted to $90,023. The bout brought $158,994.70 in taxes, he said.

SOME INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT EASTERN

President's Annual Report For Year To Regents Shows Its Splendid Growth

The report of President Coates of Eastern Kentucky State Normal, to the Board of Regents for the school year 1920-21, contains some facts that may be of interest to the readers of the Daily Register.

The enrollment in the Normal School for the year 1919-20 was 1,151; for 1920-21 it was 1,425. The total enrollment for 1919-20 was 1,408; for 1920-21 it was 1,679. In addition to the enrollment in residence, in 1919-20, there were 88 students in the extension department; in 1920-21, there were 1,643 enrolled. The total enrollment in 1917 was 1,000; in 1918, it was 1,167; in 1919, 1,408; in 1920, it was 3,322. It is expected that the enrollment in the present year in residence will reach 1,800 or 2,000. There are several causes for this increase: increased interest in education throughout the state; a greater demand for trained teachers; economic conditions, enlarged faculty at Eastern, new department and new dormitories. The attendance at the present time, the beginning of the fourth week, is 62 per cent larger than it was at the close of the first term last year. Two members of the faculty at this time are giving their whole time to field work—Prof. Jayne and Lewis—helping up the student body, helping normal students while in service, building up the Correspondence department and establishing study centers.

It may be of interest to note that Eastern will establish such a center whenever as many as ten teachers can be found who want the work. These teachers meet once a week, on Saturdays, for two hours for ten weeks and receive credits. Requests for the establishing of such centers are coming in frequently, while there are over 300 correspondence courses running in charge of Prof. J. R. Robinson.

The size of Eastern may be understood from the fact that there are regularly employed 34 teachers, 14 employees in the business office and other departments of administration, 11 employees in the dormitories, and 7 general laborers; in all, 66 persons. The total income from the state the past year was $127,152.00; income from other sources, $28,095.32; a total income of $155,247.32. Total operating expenses were $133,036.08; the cost to the state was $104,940.76; and the per capita cost of instruction based on the total resident enrollment, was $73.64. From these figures the people of Richmond may realize the size of the Normal school in their midst; and it is growing all the time.

Eastern is now supporting 18 departments of instruction, namely: education, agriculture, English, history and civics, Latin and modern languages, mathematics, science, art, reading and public speaking, physical education, home economics, industrial arts or manual training, music both vocal and instrumental, commerce library, high school, training school, correspondence and extension. These departments extend through the entire high school periods and the first two college years.

The attendance in the Normal School from Madison county during the year 1920-21 has been 187 students, a little over 13 per cent of the entire Normal attendance. The other 68 counties of the Normal districts furnished 87 per cent. The attendance in the Model School from Richmond and the country right around Richmond was 252 students. The cost to the state of the Model Training School for teaching alone during the year was $9,850, a per capita cost of $38.77. The entire attendance from Richmond and Madison county was 441 pupils or a little over 26 per cent of the total resident enrollment. To the Normal pupils who have appointments, there is no cost for tuition; to the Model pupils, only a $4 incidental fee for the whole year.

They Sho' Want That Pie
Washington, Oct. 17.—Dissatisfaction because of the number of democrats, appointed under the Wilson regime still holding office in Washington and throughout the country, Senator Davis Elkins, of West Virginia, urged President Harding to force Cabinet officers to reorganize completely with republicans.

DIXIE HIGHWAY IN GOOD CONDITION

Detailed Route Made By Wiley
Baker, of Knoxville, Shows
Condition of Entire Route

With but few exceptions, and only two detours necessary, the eastern link of the Dixie Highway, between Knoxville and Cincinnati, is in excellent shape, according to Wiley B. Baker, secretary of the Knoxville Automobile club, who has completed a log of the condition of the road over that route as well as down the western link, which runs through Louisville and Nashville. His observations were based on the trip recently taken by a large number of Dixie Highway officials and enthusiasts to Cincinnati to attend the fall meeting of that association, says the Dixie Highway Magazine.

"The eastern link of the Dixie Highway is in fine shape, especially in dry weather," Mr. Baker said, "and there is more construction of good roads going on along this route than on the western link. The western route is not so good for travel in dry weather as the eastern link."

"From Knoxville to Cincinnati the mileage is 314 and within a year I believe that it will be possible for motorists to make the trip in a day due to the character of road building now going on. During this week I was informed by W. P. Moore, of the state highway commission, that projects in Anderson and Campbell counties would be launched directly federal funds are available for the work, and this means that that portion of the Dixie Highway in Tennessee would receive needed attention within a year."

"On the western side through Louisville and Nashville no construction of roads of a permanent nature is under way. Several detours are necessary in Tennessee, but the roads into Nashville and one of the Kentucky roads are in good shape," Mr. Baker said.

The chronological record of the eastern link of the Dixie Highway as prepared by Mr. Baker reads:

Knoxville to Clinton—"Streeting out of Knoxville on Ashmun street the street is in good condition in the city limits, but from University avenue to the New Gray cemetery is in fair shape, but a little rough. Leaving Ball Camp Pike at New Gray the Clinton pike all the way into Clinton is in good condition with the exception of about two rough stretches of a few hundred feet."

Clinton to LaFollette—"This stretch of the road is in good condition practically the entire distance. The only rough place being at Vasper, which is on account of repair work. From Vasper on to LaFollette through back-shore the road is in splendid condition."

LaFollette to Jellico—"The road from LaFollette to Jellico through the Narrows is a good road to travel especially in dry weather but following two or three days of rain it would be necessary to use chains. This stretch of the road is in much better shape than at any time heretofore."

Jellico to Corbin—"From Jellico to Williamsburg is a splendid road but at Rockhold, Kentucky, there is a very bad hole, probably the worst of its kind anywhere between Knoxville and Cincinnati. On account of putting in a new bridge at this place it is necessary to make a short detour and right in the dip where lots of loose dirt has been allowed to accumulate in this bad hole, but the contractor on the job has promised to fix this hole and I'm informed that he has made good his promise since my trip through there on September 8. There is a lot of construction work going on between Williamsburg and Corbin which necessitates few short detours, but the detour roads in this stretch are not bad."

Corbin to Lexington—"For al-

Livingston in wet weather.

Livingston to Lexington—"The road is in good condition from Livingston to Mt. Vernon, a distance of ten miles. About eight or ten miles out of Mt. Vernon on the way to Berea there is a bad stretch of probably one and one-half miles. The balance of the road into Berea and on to Lexington through Richmond is in splendid condition."

Lexington to Cincinnati—"The road is in excellent shape all the way from Lexington to Cincinnati, a distance of 95 miles, thru Paris, Cynthia, Falmouth, Independence, and Covington. This road is well marked by the Kentucky Motor club which makes it easy to travel by auto and never get off the right road."

Mrs. White Breaks Hip

The Irvine Times says that "Mrs. R. J. White is confined to the home of her daughter, Miss Dixie White, in Leavenworth, suffering with a broken hip, received Saturday morning. While getting breakfast she fainted and some way in the fall broke her hip." Her many friends in Madison will regret to hear of her accident.

Mrs. Kate G. Wiggins left Saturday afternoon for an extended visit to her daughters in Texas and Oklahoma.
